then "shall" should remain. If the book serves no purpose, we should get rid of the book, but we should not have a sham and a charade. So I, if I had any wavering in me, am now rock solid with Senator LaVon Crosby. And, Senator Crosby, although I won't be doing some of the things you suggested in the line, other things that you suggested will come in handy when I'm locked up in traffic on the highway and have to just sit there too.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Baker.

SENATOR BAKER: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, members of the body. I'm not going to visit with Senator Chambers about what goes on in my store any more. He used my talk. Sometime I'm going to bring some security tape cameras or camera tapes down here one of these days and show you what people do. They work in teams and so on, and I wasn't jesting when I said when the clerk is distracted that's when things happen. And this distracts clerks. This does not eliminate the need for the book. If you want to use it, it is a defense. It is an option to the retailer. Somebody who, obviously, you've checked and he's 28-years-old, you don't need to write their name down and take time. While your clerk is distracted, there are all sorts of things going on. I was...it was pointed out that this was a law put in place in 1969. I assume it's because of the fact we did not have photo IDs at that time, so this thing is an antiquated old bill here that needs to be updated, and I, personally, wouldn't want to be in favor of just eliminating the book because there are times I certainly...you know, it is a good defense. Someone who comes in and has their ID checked, and does not sign the book, and then gets caught for a minor in possession, that retailer is still going to be liable, if it comes to that. So this is a practical matter, gives a retailer an option, and I think it's an option that's needed. It's an antiquated law that we just don't need as worded, as a "shall". It needs to be changed to "may" and I support the amendment. With that, I turn the rest of my time back to the Chair. Thank you.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Cudaback. Senator Cudaback.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Yes, sir, yes, Mr. Speaker.
